ANNOUNCEMENTS DAVIS THEATRE

The Most Expensive and Best Vaudeille and Photo Play Show of the eason is What Manager Craig Anunces for the Last Half of This ok at the Davis Theatre.

danager Craig seems to be all lies today, and if you ask him the son he will tell you that he is reason he will tell you that he is thinking about the show that is booked for the last half of the week at the Davis, and from all accounts it is going to be the banner bill of the season, every act is a Keith headliner and there is no choice in any one of the three as to which is the best. John and Mae Burke are feature number one and they need no recommendation to the vaudeville public. Both are recognised Keith stars and this is their first appearance in the smaller cities. A Ragtime Soldier is the latest vehicle that they will present here, vehicle that they will present here, and it is a sure fire riot of laughter. Another feature is Sandy McIntosh and His Musical Malds, a Scotch act, little vixen sang Annie Laurie in a This picture comes direct from Bosway that fore one's heart. The ensembles were downright pretty, and capably presented, particularly the innental rendering of A Perfect The close of the act is loud with dancing and comedy.

The Triangle picture on this bill is William S. Hart in the Return of Draw Egan, a five part western feature that just suits this favorite to The Return of Draw Evan is a

"fade-out" scene, the play, it is de-clared, is bristling with swift action and forceful with big situations.

As Draw Egan, the desperado, who swings over to the path of righteous-ness under the influence of a sweet young girl, Hart is said to have con-tributed a characterization that com-pares favorably with his now fa-mous performance of Steve Denton in The Arvan. He is once again at home The Aryan. He is once again at home with two guns on his hip and a chip on his shoulder.

To complete the show there is a funny two-reel Keystone comedy that will send you home laughing. Matinee at 2.15, all seats 10 cents. Evening at 6.45 and 8.45, 10, 15 and 20 cents.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Away Free.

Tonight will be prize night at the Auditorium and there will be nine valuable articles given away in one-half barrel of the best Rex flour and eight 25-pound bags of the same kind of flour. There is a wealth of beautiful and wonderfully picturesque mountain scenes, where much of the action taxes place. There are glimpses of city life in the factory district and among the slums, while in striking contrast are scenes enacted at an exclusive country club, in which scores of preminent society folk actually participated.

BREED THEATRE.

National Bank Tonight in Addition to an All Feature Bill of Photoplays.

The feature screen production at the Breed theatre for today and tonight is Destiny's Toy, a live-part Paramount photoplay, starring Louise Huff. It is a clean, tremendously interesting story, perfect photography, and has a star that has a strong hold in the hearts of the public. These qualifications make Destiny's Toy one of the season's best screen offerings.

The Breed also presents the sixth chapter of The Crimson Stain Mystery and tonight will have national bank. This is something entirely new in Norwich and undoubtedly will be a decided novelty, is it always was a big hit wherever put on. THE SONG OF THE COAL TRUST Put up the prices! November is here;
We can charge what we blooming well please.
The people will how, but there's nothing to fear;
If they don't want to pay they can freeze!
They will hang to their cash while the wather is warm,
But we don't have to worry a lot, Just wait for the start of the first Winter storm
And we'll soak them for all they have got!

Fut up the prices! Our profits are sure;
We can triple the size of our roll. Though people are starving and hungry and poor.
They simply have got to have coal. The mother who dandles her babe to her breast.
As she tolls at her underpaid task, As coon as the bilizzard aweeps in from the West.
Will pay us whatever we ask.

Put up the prices! What matter to us
If people complain of our greed?
Who cares if the newspapers kick up
a fuse?
The money's the thing that we need.
Though the courts or committees butt
into our game
And clamor and hammer away,
We'll keep on advancing the tax just
the same, the same,
the same,
And there's nothing to do but to pay.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly annuenced by constitutional conditions, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hail's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Chio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hail's Catarrh Cure tails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

and His Musical Maids, a Scotch act, without an equal. Here is what the reviewer in the Lowell Courier-Citizen had to say of the headline act, billed as Mcintosh and Maids, when it was the attraction at the B. F. Keith theatre in that city:

"Clan Mcintosh will now have a hearing. One braw laddle and three bonnie lassies constitute the section of the clan on parade and if plaidles ever looked prettier than they did yesterday then we haven't seen them. McIntosh—he's the leader—is as straight as a ramrod, and when he gets at the Intosh—he's the leader—is as straight as a ramrod, and when he gets at the ples he can skurl out as lively a reel as one will hear in a long time. One wee lassie—the very picture of low-land health—tripped a sword dance the while McIntosh played the pipes, and the wound up in breathless temthe while McIntosh played the pipes, and she wound up in breathless tempo, always skipping the blades. The three lassies drummed in a manner that summoned up the days of "wood-up," and they tucked in fancy strokes that would have put the ordinary snare-drummer to shame. But the clan is versatile above all else. One of the girls, in a clear, rippling soprano sang something about life and love, and the aforementioned red-headed little vixen sang Annie Laurie in a

of enthusiasm."
